AAAM HISTORICAL OVERVIEW

Established as the voice of the African American Museums Movement, the Association of African American Museums (AAAM) is a non-profit membership organization dedicated to serving the interests and needs of Black museums and cultural institutions nationwide. Membership is comprised of museums, museum professionals, institutions, and individuals that share an interest in African American art, culture, and history. Through training opportunities and member services, AAAM supports the goals of African American museums and museum professionals.

Our Roots Run Deep

The African American Museum Movement emerged during the 1950s and 1960s to preserve the heritage of the Black experience and to ensure its proper interpretation in American history. Black museums instilled a sense of achievement within Black communities, while encouraging collaborations between Black communities and the broader public. Most importantly, the African American Museums Movement inspired new contributions to society and advanced cultural awareness.

Laying the Foundation

In the late 1960s, Dr. Margaret Burroughs, founder of the DuSable Museum in Chicago, and Dr. Charles H. Wright, founder of the Museum of African American History in Detroit, initiated a series of conferences for Black museums. The National Association of Museums and Cultural Organizations and the Black Museums Conference, the first informal Black museum association, evolved from these conferences. In 1978, a consortium of six Black museums, with funding from the National Museum Act (administered by the Smithsonian Institution), presented a series of conferences at participating institutions. These conferences provided the opportunity for an ad hoc committee to lay the groundwork for yet another organization. Under the chairmanship of E. Barry Gaither, the committee prepared by-laws, which were ratified in Detroit in February of 1978. The new organization adopted the name “African American Museums Association” (AAMA), and elected its first governing council. AAMA’s first office was at the Museum of the National Center for Afro-American Artists in Boston, Massachusetts.

During the General Session of the 1997 AAMA Annual Conference in Baltimore, Maryland, the members present voted to legally change the name to “Association of African American Museums,” dissolving the former name of AAMA. A committee was elected to initiate and complete the name change procedures. Members of the committee included: Dr. John Fleming, Committee Chair; Waverly Glover, CPA; William Billingsley, Acting Operations Officer – New Organization, AAAM; and Robert E. Harley, Attorney at Law/Taxation, Ohio. The organization became official in 1998 and Rita Organ was elected president of the Association of African American Museums at the 1998 AAAM Annual Conference in Birmingham, Alabama.

Greetings,

On behalf of the board of directors, members and our host institution, The Dora Nelson Museum of African American History, I extend a warm welcome to Riverside, California for the 38th annual meeting of the Association of African American Museums. To our friends around the country and the world we look forward to an enriching conference experience as we reestablish old friendships and create new ones that will further our work in museums.

The theme for this year’s conference “Looking West: New Audiences and New Practices” will focus a great deal on the museum and cultural work of our friends in the western part of the country. From Hawaii and the Pacific Coast east to the Mississippi River, African American museums have been telling stories, celebrating the arts, promoting Black culture, and educating the populace about their region and distinct culture. This occasion presents the opportunity for African American museums and museum professionals to come together and look at our work in new ways. As we experience Riverside, and the Inland Empire, its museums, and culture, we are reminded that the 38th annual meeting and its theme are to impact AAAM’s membership and strengthen relationships in the western part of the country. Our program committee chaired by Brian Carter has scheduled an informative, enriching, engaging, and entertaining program. Our host committee chaired by Lovella Singer, planned workshops, receptions, and tours that will heighten our conference experience and open southern California to us for the week.

On a personal note I would like to thank AAAM for allowing me to serve as president for the last five years. It has been a challenging and enriching journey and I am grateful for all the colleagueship and friendships that have developed. I look forward to a successful conference and a prosperous year.

Sincerely,

Samuel W Black
President, AAAM

Greetings,

On behalf of our visionary founders, Alberta M. Kearney, 95 and Charles W. Kearney (1919-2012), it gives me great pleasure to welcome you to the Dora Nelson African American Art and History Museum. The occasion of hosting the 30th annual conference of the Association of African American Museums (AAAM) punctuates the close of one era and the beginning of a new one for the museum.

Our Museum was founded by my parents of whom I am honored to continue building on the foundation they have laid to take this institution to new heights. The work they began in recognizing, documenting, and preserving the many contributions of African Americans, in our community locally, nationally, and internationally for the benefit of educating present and future generations is inspiring. We are delighted to host the AAAM conference in the glow of the opening of the National Museum of African American History & Culture (NMAAHC) at the Smithsonian.

AAAM 2016 theme, "Looking West: New Audiences and New Practices", offers us an opportunity to view our shared and individual histories in new ways. I look forward to experiencing the wealth of information this conference brings to our region.

I trust your visit here will be enriching, enjoyable, and memorable. Welcome to The Dora Nelson African American Art & History Museum. Welcome to Perris & Riverside. Welcome to California.

Most Sincerely,

Lovella Singer

Dear Friends:

It is my honor to welcome The Association of African-American Museum’s (AAAM) to California for your 38th Annual Conference. The Inland Empire is excited that you have decided to “Look West” and make your first appearance on the west coast in the cities of Riverside and Perris, California.

Perris, California is home to the Dora Nelson African American Art & History Museum founded by Ms. Alberta Mable Kearny, who recently turned 94 years young, as a vision to preserve the history of the African American Church in the City of Perris.

Thanks to your tremendous dedication, future generations will continue to learn from the past as they take heed in the strength of our ancestors as they advance forward into the future.

I celebrate the achievements and efforts of AAAM to promote the contributions that African Americans have made in our region, our country and throughout the world. Your exceptional service and time spent on behalf of the many people you serve is to be highly praised.

Welcome to the Inland Empire and may you have a prosperous and productive conference.

Sincerely

Assemblymember
47th District

Assemblymember Cheryl R. Brown represents the 47th Assembly District, which includes Colton, Fontana, Grand Terrace, Rialto, the southwest parts of San Bernardino, and the unincorporated communities of Bloomington and Muscoy.

Dear Mrs. Kearney,

Congratulations on this auspicious afternoon. This is a great accomplishment for you and a continued commitment to showcase the National Council of Negro Women, Inc., (NCNW). Brick by brick, you have built a valuable and historic enterprise. We, the Southern California Area, NCNW pray that year after year, your museum becomes more and more prosperous. There is a growing trend in establishing unending ways to showcase artifacts and memorabilia before they are lost in an ever evolving world. The members of the entire Southern California Area, National Council of Negro Women, would like to congratulate you as you are recognized today.

We know that with your background, expertise and enthusiasm, the museum as well as the legacy of our founder, Mary McLeod Bethune, will continue. As others learn about your museum they will want to visit and share in the history that lives there. We commend you on being a member of the African American Museum Association and providing a venue to exhibit historical materials.

Continued success and we congratulate you again on proving that hard work pays off artistically.

Much joy and many blessings,

Dr. Helena Johnson,
Southern California Co-Convener, NCNW

Dear Association of African American Museums Members and Supporters:

On behalf of the City of Perris, I would like to express my sincere gratitude and a warm welcome to our community! With this year’s Association of African American Museums (AAAM) Conference Looking West, we appreciate your consideration for the State of California, the Inland Empire region, and the City of Perris. We are thrilled and deeply honored to serve as both the 2016 AAAM Conference host, as well as the home base for the Dora Nelson African American Art and History Museum (DNAAAHM).

With roots that go back to 1920 Perris, when Dora Nelson herself settled in this area, this tribute in her name was established in 1979 to honor African American history. Today, after nearly four decades in operation, the Dora Nelson Museum continues to work to preserve that purpose for future generations, and remains a prominent pillar of our community.

We in the City of Perris take great pride in our rich history and the strong foundation that history bestows upon our community. As such, with your theme to look at New Audiences and New Practices, we are excited to share with you some of our old favorites, including of course the Dora Nelson African American Art and History Museum and the Perris Valley Historical Museum, both included in your activities during this year’s Conference.

Thank you again for selecting the City of Perris for this great honor, and I hope you enjoy your time here!

Sincerely,

Daryl Re-Busch
Mayor, City of Perris

Dear Conference Attendees:

On behalf of the Riverside County Board of Supervisors, it is my distinct honor to welcome you to Riverside for the 2016 Association of African American Museums Annual Conference. We are proud to be part of such an important and worthwhile event. It is a privilege to host your Association as you learn, discuss, network, and build institutions to honor and exhibit African American art, history, and culture.

Riverside County has numerous cultural activities, entertainment and dining options, and historic sites for all interests and tastes. During your time in our county I hope you will take advantage of our rich history and heritage by visiting the Fox Performing Arts Center, the historic Mission Inn hotel or the museums in downtown Riverside. We also offer world class shopping at the Cabazon Outlet stores as well as numerous outdoor adventure opportunities at places like the Palm Springs Aerial Tramway, the Whitewater Reserve, and our wonderful Wine Country near Temecula, just to name a few.

I wish to extend a special note of thanks to those who dedicated many hours planning and preparing for this event. I would also like to thank and commend each of you for your willingness to participate on behalf of your organizations and I wish you the very best for a successful conference. Please enjoy your stay in our fabulous County of Riverside!

Sincerely,

John Tavaglione

2016 Annual Conference
Association of African American Museums

Greetings,

I am pleased to extend a heartfelt welcome to the Association of African American Museums Annual Conference. We are grateful that you have selected Riverside for your gathering and we are confident that you will enjoy your time in the City of Arts and Innovation.

The City of Riverside has a long history of supporting our museums, as we recognize that the arts play an important role in promoting creativity and innovation. We believe that professionals who work in museums play an important role as the keepers of history. Thank you for being responsible guardians of our nation’s stories and treasures and thank you for being steadfast champions for the arts. Your work provides our children with the opportunity to get up close and personal with history in a way that they may otherwise only read in books or see on television.

The City of Riverside has a diverse history as an advocate for civil rights. Riverside made history when the Riverside Unified School District became the first large school district in the nation to integrate schools without requiring a court order. Riverside is also home to a National Landmark, the Harada House, which still stands at 3356 Lemon Street. This landmark served as the center of a court case, California vs. Harada, which was an early constitutional test of the California Alien Land Law of 1913. Additionally, Riverside is proud to serve as home to the Center for Social Justice and Civil Liberties.

We are thrilled to host your group in Riverside and hope that while you are here that you will get out to explore our shops, restaurants, museums, and nightlife. We are confident that our local residents will extend you a warm Riverside welcome.

Riverside Pride!

Elizabeth Merritt, Vice President, Strategic Foresight, and Founding Director, Center for the Future of Museums, at the American Alliance of Museums

In 2008, Elizabeth Merritt was charged by the Alliance board with creating the Center for the Future of Museums to help museums understand the cultural, political, economic, environmental, and technological trends shaping the world, and explore innovative ways to help their communities thrive in coming decades. The initiative’s ongoing foresight and forward-looking work includes thought leadership and research reports such as the annual TrendsWatch. Most recently, CFM has launched a fellowship program to help museums explore new areas of practice.

Before being appointed CFM’s first director, Elizabeth led the Excellence Programs at AAM—Accreditation, Museum Assessment and Peer Review—as well as the association’s research activities. Before that, she spent 15 years working in museums in administration, curation and collections management. Her areas of expertise include futures studies, museum standards and best practices, ethics, collections management and planning, and assessment of nonprofit performance. Her books include “National Standards and Best Practices for U.S. Museums” and the “AAM Guide to Collections Planning.” She blogs for CFM at futureofmuseums.blogspot.com and tweets as @futureofmuseums. Her M.A. is from Duke University, B.S. from Yale, and she completed the University of Houston Futures Studies Certificate Course.
Dr. Clayborne Carson has devoted his professional life to the study of Martin Luther King, Jr. and the movements King inspired. Since receiving his doctorate from UCLA in 1975, Dr. Carson has taught at Stanford University, where he is now Martin Luther King, Jr., Centennial Professor of History and Ronnie Lott Founding Director of the Martin Luther King, Jr., Research and Education Institute.

In 1985, the late Coretta Scott King invited Dr. Carson to direct a long-term project to edit and publish an authoritative edition of King’s speeches, sermons, correspondence, publications, and unpublished writings. Under Carson’s direction, the King Papers Project has produced seven volumes of The Papers of Martin Luther King, Jr. In 2005, Carson founded the Martin Luther King, Jr. Research and Education Institute to endow and expand the work of the King Papers Project.

Carson has also written a musical play, “Passages of Martin Luther King,” that was first performed by Stanford’s drama department in 1993. The international premiere of “Passages” was produced in 2007 by the National Theatre of China. In 2012, the Palestinian National Theatre performed an Arabic vision of “Passages” in East Jerusalem and other Palestinian communities. In 2014, a documentary, El Helm: Martin Luther King in Palestine (2013), recounted the difficult process of bringing King’s nonviolent message to the Middle East.

In addition to his years of teaching at Stanford, Dr. Carson also taught at the UCLA, the University of California, Berkeley, American University, Emory University, Morehouse College, and l’école des hautes études en sciences sociales in Paris. He has lectured throughout the United States and in many other nations, including China, India, Senegal, Tanzania, Zambia, Zimbabwe, South Africa, Jamaica, Germany, Belgium, Netherlands, and France. He has appeared on many national radio and television shows, such as Good Morning America, NBC Nightly News, CBS Evening News, Fresh Air, Charlie Rose, Tavis Smiley, and Marketplace.

Amina J. Dickerson serves as President of Dickerson Global Advisors, (DGA), which offers leadership coaching and consulting services intended to foster organizational stewardship. DGA partners with non-profit organizations, businesses, the philanthropic community and individuals and works at the intersection of civic engagement, arts, and social change.

DGA was created as an outgrowth of Dickerson’s leadership experience over a 35 year career in the non-profit, corporate and philanthropy sectors. As Senior Director at Kraft Foods, she headed multi-national philanthropic programs in hunger relief, the arts, domestic violence and education. Dickerson also held executive posts with the National Museum of African Art at Smithsonian Institution, Chicago Historical Society and DuSable Museum of African American History. She has extensive experience as a facilitator, speaker and panelist for organizations in the U.S. and abroad. DGA provides counsel and support to organizations working on strategic and scenario planning, program development, succession planning, talent development, strategic partnerships, community engagement and signature funding initiatives. As a coach, her focus is to help individuals and groups become fierce and imaginative leaders over the span of a career. Recent clients include Navy Pier, Inc., WTTW, Allstate, The Salzburg Global Forum and Minnesota Council on Foundations.

Dickerson studied theater at Emerson College, holds a certificate in arts management from Harvard University, and a M.A. in arts management from American University in Washington, D.C. She also holds specialized certificates from the Global Business Network, Center for Creative Leadership, Coaches Training Institute and the Leadership Circle. She serves on the boards of the Fry Foundation, the Women’s Funding Network, the African American Legacy Fund of the Chicago Community Trust, the Leadership Advisory Council of the Art Institute of Chicago and as chair of the Woods Fund of Chicago. She previously served on the board of the Harris Theatre for Music and Dance, ChiArts and Congo Square Theatre, among others. Dickerson served as Distinguished Visitor with the John D. and Catherine T. MacArthur Foundation, a Newberry Library Fellow and Vice Chair of the International Committee of the Council on Foundations.

Her work has been recognized with awards from the Association of Black Foundation Executives, Chicago Women in Philanthropy, Chicago African Americans in Philanthropy and the Association of Fundraising Professionals, among many other civic honors. In 2009, she was added to the HistoryMakers national video archives of outstanding African American leaders, was named to The Network Journal’s Class of 25 Influential Black Women in Business, and is included in the American University Alumni Hall of Fame.

CONCURRENT SESSIONS A

Preserving Black Landscapes & Black Spaces
MEETING ROOM (MR) 7, 2nd Floor
This panel describes in detail the growth of African American preservation initiatives, the role of women’s clubs as preservation pioneers and new directions in protecting and re-purposing African American cultural landscapes and built environments.
Moderator: Brent Leggs, National Trust for Historic Preservation
Presenters: Gwen Trice, Maxville Heritage Interpretive Center; Alison Jefferson, University of California, Santa Barbara—Department of History; and Calixte George Jr., St. Lucia National Trust

New Horizons with Enterprising Museum Professionals
MEETING ROOM (MR) 8, 2nd Floor
In an age of increasing funding challenges and shifts in the workforce, this session will explore how working with independent museum consultants, freelancers and contractors can help maximize institutional resources while also allowing museums to provide great experiences for their audiences.
Moderator: Jackie Peterson, Jackie Peterson Exhibit Services
Presenters: Monica O. Montgomery, Museum Hue; and Joy Bailey Bryant, Lord Cultural Resources

John Kinard Scholarship: Jekyll Island Management Institute (JIMI)
MEETING ROOM (MR) 9, 2nd Floor
The Jekyll Island Management Institute (JIMI) is coordinated annually by the Southeastern Museums Conference (SEMC), and for many years lacked the diversity reflected in the nation’s museums and cultural institutions. The John Kinard Scholarship Fund, offered to two museum professionals each year through the Smithsonian’s National Museum of African American History & Culture (NMAAHC), has helped to change that. In this session, Kinard Scholars and SEMC Executive Director will discuss the importance of JIMI and the Kinard Scholarship to the museum field.
Moderator: Susan Perry, Southeastern Museums Conference
Presenters: LaNesha Debareleben, Charles H. Wright Museum; Dr. Deborah Mack, Smithsonian National Museum of African American History & Culture; Tim Barbara, Black Archives Foundation of South Florida; and Dr. Ruth Jackson, Emeritus University Librarian, University of California, Riverside and National Historian, Tuskegee Airman, Inc.

9:25 AM - 10:35 AM
CONCURRENT SESSIONS B

Bringing New Audiences into the Public History World
MEETING ROOM (MR) 7, 2nd Floor
The Directors of the Fannie Lou Hamer Institute @ The Council of Federated Organizations (COFO), Gallery 1, and the Margaret Walker Center will discuss their roles in this process and how each is working to bring new audiences into the public history world, especially young black students at Jackson State University (JSU). With that in mind, a current JSU student, Brittany Calhoun, who will be a Smithsonian intern with the Hamer Institute @ COFO, will moderate the panel and discussion.
Moderator: Brittany Calhoun, Jackson State University
Presenters: Dr. Robert Luckett, Margaret Walker Center, Jackson State University; Dr. Rico Chapman, Hamer Institute @ COFO, Jackson State University; and Shonda McCarthy, Gallery 1, Jackson State University
Telling Stories: The Changing Face of the African American Museum Donor
Meeting Room (MR) 8, 2nd Floor
This session will explore how the Smithsonian’s National Museum of African American History & Culture (NMAAHC) developed its Donor Story Project as a strategy for engagement and financial support. We will look at the changing demographics and motivations of the donors to the Museum and how it can be modeled for future sustainability.
Presenters: Dedra Owens, DOT Communications; Robert Pierre, DOT Communications

Stories from the West
Meeting Room (MR) 9, 2nd Floor
Presenters from the Middle Passage Research Group in California; the African American Diversity Cultural Center of Hawaii; the African American History Museum in Montana; and a Clarence Muse scholar will share their work and the unique approaches they take to engaging audiences.
Presenters: Renita Lorden, Independent Scholar; Gena Weaver, Middle Passage Research Group; Deloris Guttman, University of Hawaii; Barbara Osborne Cipolla, Sheridan County Library; Norma B. Asbaby, Mehmke Steam Tractor Museum; Charlotte Mehmke and Ayse Mehmke, Mehmke Museum

Using the HR Function to Manage the Evolution of Museum Visitorship
Meeting Room (MR) 10, 2nd Floor
Museums, in general, have developed new ways to identify and respond to their changing environments. The Studio Museum in Harlem designed and implemented a sustainable professional development model to manage, adapt and facilitate change. These models invest in our professional talent to better equip our organizations to address challenges.
Presenter: Sheila McDaniel, Studio Museum in Harlem

10:45 am-11:55 am
Concurrent Sessions C

From Information to Inspiration: Enhancing Your Interpretation Toolkit
Meeting Room (MR) 7, 2nd Floor
This session will provide participants with the effective tools for interpreting sensitive topics in provocative ways that it develops strategies to make connections with audiences while exploring relevant interpretive approaches to your historical resources. Learn about the National Association of Interpretation’s (NAI) approach from certified trainers, hear from recent National Museum of African American History & Culture NAI Workshop Scholars about their NAI experience and learn how to qualify to participate in the next session.
Moderator: Marion McGee, Smithsonian National Museum of African American History & Culture (NMAAHC)
Presenters: Shawn Halifax, Charleston County Park & Recreation Commission; Mark Madden, Charleston County Park Museum & Recreation Commission; Brittney Westbrook, Evansville African American Museum; Levon Williams, Indiana University School of Public and Environmental Affairs

Considering New Directions: Mission, Vision, and Organizational Sustainability
Meeting Room (MR) 8, 2nd Floor
In this panel, directors of the DuSable Museum in Chicago, the Philadelphia African American Museum, and the Grenada National Museum will discuss the re-imagining of their museums and their sustainability in 21st century terms. Each presenter will address key considerations and challenges they are addressing as the new leaders of these cultural organizations, including issues around governance structure, the role of museum boards, revisiting museum missions, 21st century staffing needs, and fiscal realities.
Moderator: Dr. Deborah Mack, Smithsonian National Museum of African American History & Culture (NMAAHC)
Presenters: John Angus Martin, Ministry of Culture - Grenada; Perri Irmer, The DuSable Museum of African American History; and Patricia Wilson Aden, African American Museum Philadelphia

HBCU Internship Program at NMAAHC
One of the most effective ways of increasing diversity in the museum field is by making the acquisition of relevant experience accessible to underrepresented groups. The Internship Program at the Smithsonian National Museum of African American History & Culture (NMAAHC) is taking important steps toward developing the next generation of museum professionals who are increasingly diverse and have the necessary work experience to enter the museum workforce. Interns from Hampton University and Jackson State University will share their work and experiences that the HBCU Intern Program have provided them.
Presenter: Brittany Calhoun, Jackson State University; and Amber Pelham, Hampton University

Social Media for African American Museum Audiences
Virtual museums, or the museums of today, coupled with the many uses of social media give audiences that were once impossible to reach a renewed opportunity to advance the preservation of African American history, art, and culture.
Presenter: Oran Belgrave, Oran’s Black Museum

Show and Tell
Show and Tell will provide the audience with the experience of seeing actual documentation of African American items that are considered rare and will have a forum for the audience to become better acquainted with some rare African American materials. The anticipated outcome of this presentation is that other museums will acquire these types of items for their museum and expand the awareness of their local audience.
Presenter: Dr. Norman Towels, Dora Nelson African American Art & History Museum

Visiting Our Museums: Insights from Visits to over 50 African American Museum and Exhibitions Nationwide
Ms. Clare Norris-Bell is an educator-academic from outside the museum industry who’s visited over fifty African-American themed museums and exhibitions over the last two and half years. In her presentation, she will... use her observations to engage in a dialogue about how museums can use new practices to address difficult issues and attract new audiences.

Presenter: Clare Norris-Bell, Our Museums

Finding Yourself in the Groves: Reimagining Representation at CA Citrus State Historic Park
This is a chance to offer feedback on a proposed intervention into the interpretation at California Citrus State Historic Park, which hopes to draw attention to multiracial pasts, indigenous land use, and racialized patterns of socioeconomic development of the region in order to produce a diversity of narratives relevant to contemporary audiences.

Presenter: Megan Suster, University of California, Riverside

African American Icons Exhibit
A series of 7-10 oil paintings featuring well-known African American icons covering several eras in African American history, from the early days of slavery, to the Civil Rights Movement. This exhibit celebrates many African American pioneers like Hattie McDaniel (first African American actress to win an Oscar), and President Barrack Obama (first African American President of the USA).

Presenter: Vivica Mays, Emerging Artist

NMAAHC/NAI Interpretation Workshop Scholarship Recipients
In January 2016, the Smithsonian National Museum of African American History & Culture (NMAAHC), partnered with the Charleston County Park and Recreation Commission at McLeod Plantation Historic Site in Charleston, SC to offer a weeklong interpretation training for select AAAM members. Participants were exposed to National Association of Interpretation (NAI) resources, provided training specifically related to the interpretation of African American history and culture, and received NAI Certification. In this presentation, you will have a chance to meet ten of the NMAAHC/NAI scholars and learn how this experience has enriched their individual work in the field of interpretation.

Presenters: Iris Leigh Barnes, Lillie Carroll Jackson Civil Rights Museum, Morgan State University; Martha Bireda, The Blanchard House Museum of African American History and Culture of Charlotte County; Shannon Browning-Mullis, Telfair Museums; Kimberly Coleman, The George & Leah McKenna Museum of African American Art; Maria Madison, The Robbins House, Inc.; Ingrid Owens, Penn Center; Ashley Robertson, Bethune-Cookman University/Bethune Foundation; Zachary Stocks, Northwest African American Museum; Brittany Westbrook, Evansville African-American Museum; and Lacey Wilson, Black History Department in Prince George’s Parks and Planning Facility.

CONCURRENT SESSIONS H

Theatrical Storytelling
MEETING ROOM (MR) 7, 2ND FLOOR
This session will be part presentation, part performance, and part discussion. Award winning museum cultural educator Moses Goods will vividly paint a picture of how theatrical storytelling enhances the learning experience in museums.

Presenter: Moses Goods, Bishop Museum

Cultivating New Museum Leadership: Cultivating the Pipeline
MEETING ROOM (MR) 8, 2ND FLOOR
Museum leaders, representing three generations of museum leadership, will provide an historical overview as well as trending observations about the cultivation of new museum leaders.

Moderator: Dr. Deborah Mack, Smithsonian National Museum of African American History & Culture (NMAAHC)

Presenters: LaNesha DeBardeladen, Charles W. Wright Museum of African American History; and Edmund Barry Gaither, National Center of Afro-American Artists (NCAAA)

Beyond Binaries: Disrupting in order to empower audiences from coast to coast
MEETING ROOM (MR) 9, 2ND FLOOR
The changing demographic of the U.S. requires that museums produce content that resists placing the history of people of color as footnotes. This interactive panel will address ways to create exhibitions that tell inclusive stories, innovative ways to engage diverse audiences, and creating synergy in museum committees seeking far greater diversity.

Moderator: Omar Eaton-Martinez, Smithsonian American Museum of American History

Presenters: Monica O. Montgomery, Museum Hue; and Derrick Leon Washington, Museum of the City of New York

HALF DAY TOUR—6:30AM to 12:00PM
Dora Nelson African American Art & History Museum and Lake Elsinore

This bus and walking tour will take participants to visit several sites in Southern Riverside County associated with African American history in Perris and Lake Elsinore. Tour leaves from Marriott Riverside Hotel/Conference Center.

This half-day excursion will begin with a visit to the city of Perris, California, founded as a farming community in the 1880s on the California Pacific Railroad line connecting Barstow and San Diego. The earliest known African Americans began residency in Perris around 1900. At the Dora Nelson African American Art & History Museum, tour participants will visit the only repository created to preserve African American art and history in the Inland Empire. The museum is named for a former enslaved woman who arrived in Perris in 1920, and founded the first Negro church. We will pass by the three campuses of the church founded ninety-one years ago that are located in the growing and thriving African American community of Perris. Alberta & Charles Kearney, visionaries & founders of the museum, named it for Dora Nelson, an unsung hero.

Next will be stops at picturesque historical African American resort sites including Muse-A-While Ranch (owned by thespian Clarence Muse) in Perris and then on to Southern Riverside County's Lake Elsinore. We will make a stop at the newly renovated space of the Lake Elsinore Historical Society. Tour participants will learn about the history of the heyday and decline of the resort founded in the late 1880s. Additional stops will include a visit to the historical section situated along Pottery Street and Lake Shore Beach, where local residents lived and businesses were established to serve African American leisure seekers during the vacation boom years in the nation's Jim Crow era.

We will visit sites of Los Angeles entrepreneurs who developed business ventures and residents, along with places where famous guests and professionals stayed or romped in the Lake Elsinore environs. During the heyday of the black resort area visitors included: A'Lelia Walker, heir to the cosmetics business and fortune created by her mother Madame C.J. Walker, the first self-made African American woman millionaire; musician Louis Armstrong; actress Hattie McDaniel; and actress Lena Horne. Prominent black Angelinos who owned property and/or spent time at the resort included: businessman and real estate mogul Robert C. Owens, businessman and civic activist John Wesley Coleman, medical doctor and businessman Wilbur C. Gordon, civil rights activist/attorney/journalist Loren Miller, dentist and civil rights activist H. Claude Hudson, Judges David Williams and Thomas L. Griffith, Jr., California Eagle newspaper publisher Charlotta Bass, Los Angeles Sentinel newspaper publisher Leon Washington and Dr. Curtis King, M.D., among others.

Ebony magazine's May 1948 issue touted Lake Elsinore as the "best Negro vacation spot in the state...and...the nation, according to many Californians." The tour will stop at some sites that were listed in The Negro Traveler's Green Book: Guide for Travel & Vacation published from 1936 to 1963, the most well-known of these types of directories.

Cost: $50/person
FULL DAY TOUR—6:30AM to 6:30PM
African American History Tour of Los Angeles

This tour follows the progress of the African American community in Los Angeles. It includes Biddy Mason Wall, Sugar Hill, The Island, Central Avenue, Leimert Park and other locations throughout the city of Los Angeles.

Stops will include:
• Biddy Mason Monument
• Black Firefighters Museum
• California African American Museum
• Museum of African American Art—3rd Floor Macy’s at Baldwin Hills Crenshaw Plaza

Discover the 1781 African connection to the founding of Los Angeles; travel to the Bridget “Biddy” Mason Memorial and learn the history about the first African-American—a former slave—to purchase land in Los Angeles; learn about the history of the Watts Tower; view the Mother of Humanity sculpture and tour the Civil Rights Museum; learn about the black entertainers like actress Louise Beavers, Pearl Bailey, Hattie McDaniel (first African American to win an Oscar), Earl Grant (jazz organist), and Ray Charles, of “Sugar Hill” in the 1940s; visit the historic mural in the oldest black church in Los Angeles, First AME; and more!

Cost: $125/person

To the Association of the African American Museum:

On behalf of the California State Assembly’s 61st District, I would like to congratulate you on successfully hosting the Association of the African American Museums Annual Conference, in Southern California.

As a previous High School Teacher of Ethnic Studies and the current Chair of the Higher Education Committee, I am honored to have such a historically and educationally significant event hosted in the Inland Empire. Congratulations!
